THIS CITY'S ADVANTAGE

M. B. Harlow Tells Washington Paper Regarding Brief to be Submitted to Daniels on Thursday.

M. B. Harlow of this city gave an interview to the Washington Times which published the following in its noon edition today.

Alexandria's committee which has in charge the effort to get the Government's armor plant located here, will hold a conference with Washington Business men to urge upon them a combination of forces in Alexandria's behalf.

This announcement was made today by M. B. Harlow, chairman of the Alexandria committee, following a meeting of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce yesterday, at which the brief was prepared for presentation at the Navy Department October 12.

The brief also will contain interesting historical details of the early inclusion of Virginia territory in the District of Columbia. It seeks to show that Congress originally intended the portion of the District on the Maryland side to be the seat of Government, and the portion of the Virginia side to be the industrial center for the district.

"We intend to make our appeal to business men of Washington to unite with us because we believe we can show that the interests of Washington will be conserved better by location of the plant in Alexandria.

"Every argument that applies to Washington will apply to Alexandria, and Alexandria can offer advantages that Washington cannot offer.

'For one thing, Alexandria has no laws to interfere with the erection of any sort of a plant, nor any smoke laws to hamper its operation.

"In the District plans for Government structures must be submitted to the Fine Arts Commission, under the law, and the chance of their approving the armor plant project is dim.

"If the people of the District stopped to think they would realize that Washington does not want the armor plant, with its noise and smoke, for it violates the plan upon which Washington is being developed.

Turning to the positive advantages claimed for Alexandria, Mr. Harlow, points out that the Virginia city has a mile of water front, with nowhere less than a depth of thirty feet.

The freight yards in Alexandria, he points out, are among the finest in the country, and form a distributing point north, east, south, and west.

Alexandria will offer either of two sites. One is located on the Potomac with its southern section affording a 27,000 foot frontage on the river, The depth of the river all along this distance is 33 feet. Another side of this tract lies along Great Hunting Creek, a tributary of the Potomac, for a distance of 18,000 feet. The tract has upon it the industrial track of the Southern railway, which eight other railroads have the right to use. These are the Southern, B. & O., Chesapeake and Ohio, Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line, Norfolk and Western, Virginia and Old Dominion and Great Falls. This tract contains eighty acres.

The alternative site is on the south bank of Great Hunting Creek and on the west bank of the Potomac. It has a 3,000 foot frontage on the Potomac, and 2,000 feet on Great Hunting Creek. Railroad facilities are guaranteed if this site is selected.

Mr. Harlow stated a study of history would show that, originally, that portion of the Old District taken from Virginia was intended as the industrial portion of the reservation.

"Congress showed such small interest in the Capital in the early days," he said, "that, in 1846, by a vote of the residents of the Virginia side that portion of the District was ceded back to Virginia.

"Since then the Government has realized this recession was a mistake Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt, and aft, have urged that the original ten-mile square District of Columbia be restored.

Alexandria, a city of 20,000, already is fast growing toward Washington. Its people patronize every form of business in Washington. Washington would benefit almost as much as Alexandria by the location of the plant in Alexandria.

"There are 220 steam and electric trains running daily between Washington and Alexandria. It is only a twety-five minutes run. The close association between the welfare of Alexandria and of Washington needs no argument.

"There is a chance to get the plant in Alexandria if Washington unites with us. If the two cities split up it may go somewhere else. This is the argument we wish to get before Washington business men."

DEATH OF G. E. HEPBURN

Old and Well-Known Printer Succumbs to Paralysis at His Home Last Night.

George T. Hepburn, who has been suffering from paralysis for many years, died at his home on Fairfax street, near Wolfe, at 8 o'clock last night. The deceased was about 62 years old. He is survived by a widow and two children—George Hepburn, and Mrs. Arthur Schwarzmann.

Mr. Hepburn while a small boy became an apprentice to the printing business in Warrenton, and was later an attache of the Alexandria Gazette In the latter part of the eighties, when the free silver mania was spreading over the country, Senator Stewart, of Nevada, fitted out a printing office on the north side of Cameron street, between Royal and Pitt, where he published the "Silver Knight" and other papers in the interest of the movement. He placed a man namd Simon over the plant and Mr. Hepburn became his assistant. The defeat of William Jennings Bryan, for President and the financial depression which followed in the ranks of the silver advocates brought the labors of the Alexandria publishing house to a close, after which Mr. Hepburn became foreman of the Law Reporter, a Washington publication, Industrious and trustworthy, he worked faithfully until the wheels of life were about to stand still. The introduction of type-setting machines finally brought his printorial career to a close. He had in the meantime received several slight strokes of paralysis, the effects of which gradually rendered him helpless, and for some time he had been unable to leave his home, where he sat and patiently awaited the final summons which came to him early last night. Mr. Hepburn was a member of Columbia Typographical Union, No. 101, of Washington.

The arrangement for the funeral have not yet been made.

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL

Evangelist Stancill to Commence Canvass of Non-Church Goers

"More than half of the people in Alexandria do not go to any church at all. The nine protestant churches and the Catholic churches only each about half the people," said Rev. Robert W. Stancill in the Old First Presbyterian church last night.

In this the second service of the campaign he is conducting under the auspices of the Disciples Union of Washington and the District of Columbia for the purpose of opening a Christian Church in Alexandria, Mr. Stancill outlined plans, other than preaching, which he has in mind. Commencing next Monday he will make a personal house to house canvass of the city and seek to draw those who do not now attend any church to his services.

Mr. Stancill will speak tonight and tomorrow night again at 7:30 o'clock and tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. At 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon also he will conduct a meeting for the purpose of organizing a Sunday School.

It is said that there are already a number of people who have signified their intention of joining the new church membership.

RAILROAD MEN'S SERVICE

Large Number Attend Second Baptiset Church and two Join

The special service for railroad men held in the Second Baptist Church last night attracted a large gathering of people, two of whom joined the church membership.

The speakers were Albert Jones and the Rev. Owen N. Triplett, pastor of the church. Mr. Jones also played selections from the Gypsy Smith, Jr., revival hymnal on the chime bells. Mrs. William Petty rendered a very pleasing solo.

The first week of the series of services will be known as Denominational week. The second week will be known as Organization week. The following days have been assigned to the various denominations: Tuesday — Episcopal, Wednesday — Presbyterian, Thursday—Disciples, Friday — Methodist, Saturday—Baptist.

Lieutenant-Colonel Thomas A. Kirkpatrick and son, Herbert who have been guests of Mrs. John T. Tackett, in south St. Asaph street left today for Lynchburg. Mrs. Kirkpatrick will leave on Monday, to join her husband and son and on Wednesday they will leave for Brownsville, Texas, where Colonel Kirkpatrick is stationed.

It was erroneously stated yesterday that Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson had gone to New Orleans, Dr. Jackson will occupy his pulpit in the First Baptist Church tomorrow.

HEARING POSTPONED

Representative Carlin Notifies General Committee to Appear on Next Thursday Morning.

The hearing by Secretary Daniels, of the volume of statistics and arguments in favor of Alexandria, in its campaign to secure the $11,000,000 Government Armor Plant, has again been postponed. Instead of next Tuesday morning it will be given on Thursday morning, October 12, at 11 o'clock accordin to a letter just received by James T. Preston, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The letter reads:

"Dear Preston:

The Secretary of the Navy has fixed Thursday, October 12, at 11.00 a. m., for the hearing upon the Armor Plant matter. Will you please advise members of the Committee to this effect. This, of course, takes the place of the meeting previously arranged for the 10th instant. Sincerely yours,

C. C. Carlin."

The members of the Alexandria County Co-operation Committee are reporting big progress in their effort to secure outside aid for Alexandria. K. W. Ogden is just now in receipt of a letter from W. L. Jones, mayor of Front Royal, Va., who states that the council of that town has unanimously passed resolutions endorsing the location of the Armor Plant here.

The Board of Supervisors of Fairfax County is another body which has addressed a resolution in favor of Alexandria to the Secretary of the Navy.

It is requested that all members of the General Committee report at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms not later than 10 o'clock of the morning of the 12th instant. In view of the fact that the delegation is to proceed to Washington in automobiles it is requested that all those willing to place machines at the disposal of the committee will have them at the corner of King and Washington streets at that hour.

The Treasury Department has selected, a site for the Federal postoffice building at Woodstock, on a street soon to be opened in that town.

DECORATORS BUSY

Transforming Armory Hall Into a Palace of Pleasure

That Alexandrians are not in the habit of doing things half-heartedly is shown by the enthusiastic manner in which the Masonic Fraternity is arranging for their bazaar which is to open Monday night.

Under direction of Chairman F. W. Latham, J. E. Shinn and his assistants are busily engaged transforming Armory Hall into a palace of pleasure. With the aid o fan abundance of green cedar and bunting of various colors the work is progressing rapidly. There will ten booths. One for the Order of Eastern Star, showing the colors of the order, surmounted by an electric star, Andrew Jackson Lodge will have one with a Mexican and Turkish design; Old Dominion Commandery, Mt. Vernon and Roman design; Mt. Vernon Royal Arch Chapter, Philippino and Dutch style; the Shriners' booth will be Egyptian; while Alexandria-Washington Lodge will partake of a Japanese character. In addition to these there will be a pretty flower booth, and various ohers. Each of the attendants will wear appropriate costumse. The ceiling will be decorated in red white, and blue.

Booster buttons are already on sale at ten cents each which admit the purchaser to the bazaar on "Lucky Night" —Friday, October 3th. If you want to come in contact with a walking dynamo of enthusiasm just mention the word bazaar to one of the Masonic brethren. They are a "live bunch."

SERMONS OF GYPSY SMITH, Jr.

Those desiring back numbers of the Gazette containing the the sermons preached by Gypsy Smith, Jr., at the evangelistic meetings in Alexandria, should call at the Gazette office at once and secure same, as the supply is limited.

All the back numbers containing the sermons which still remain on hand have been arranged in sets. The price of each copy will be same as charged regularly for the paper.

CARLIN WILL SPEAK

In Alexandria Court House Next Thursday Representative Will Boost Wilson

The series of meetings at which Representative Carlin will speak will begin next week, Thursday, at Alexandria Court House. Preparations for the occasion are being made by the executive committee and a rally that will wake up Democrats throughout the county and this part of Virginia, is expected. County Clerk Geo. H. Rucker will be chairman of the meeting and a number of local speakers including Captain Mackey, Judge Gloth, R. C. L. Moncure, and Common-Wealth's Attorney Ball, among others, will be present and will be called on to speak as opportunity occurs. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the committee.

Mr. Carlin will review some of the achievements of the Wilson administration showing, that it has done more to control the capacity of capitol in its three years than the Republicans have done in sixteen years.

He will also say something of the great constructive legislation by the Congresses of which he has been a part, and tell some inside facts of the fight for the New Aqueduct bridge.

Answer to some of the personal attacks by Republicans on President Wilson and his assistants including the speaker may also be expected.

A meeting of the finance committee of the National organization was held last night at the Court House and plans made to collect more money for the campaign.

HANGED AND RIDDLED.

Gilller, Texas, Oct. 6.—Will Spencer a negro, was taken from jail by a mob at Graceton, Upshur county, late Wednesday night, hanged to a tree and riddled with bullets.

Spencer and Constable Ed Harrell, of Graceton, Wednesday fought with pistols when Harrell attempted to serve on the negro a writ of attachment for a bill alleged to be due on cotton. Both the constable and the negro were slightly wounded. The negro was arrested and placed in jail.

A CORKING GOOD GAME

But Alexandria Boys Lose to Western High to Tune of 6-0 After Lively Effort

The white and maroon boys went down in defeat yesterday afternoon, before the team of the Washington Western High, in spite of very gallant effort before superior weight. The score was 6 to 0, representing one touch-down in the second quarter.

The local boys were never outplayed, but they were out-weighted. They average 160 pounds each, but the visitors tip the scales around 170. The play was either heavy bucking the line or movements in mass formation or forward passing. But this latter form of attack did not get either team anywhere. From beginning to end the fight for the pig-skin mastery was gripping and intense and held the attention of the largest crowd ever assembled for a game on the High School Campus.

Driefus, Howard, and Trigger did notable work in the back line, as did also F. Summers, and Curtin, on the front line altho' all the fellows worked consistently and evenly and responded quickly to the signal of Captain F. Summers. The wonder is that they did as well as they did, considering the recent loss of the two Pohls, who were among the best players on the team. Had they been present Coach Nalls and Nolley feel that the score would have been the other way about.

A breath-holding run down the length of the entire field occurred in the last quarter when Giesking, of Western, broke away from the crowd and streaked down to the home goal with the pack at his heels. He was thrown in a splendid tackle by Rowen, however, just before he made the ten-yard line. Rowen had not long before been sent in to replace Remington. This change was in the interest of weight.

The line-up:

W. W. H.		A. H.
Hume.	L. E.	Duncan
Willis	L. T.	Allan
Bridget	L. G.	W. Summers
Mechevary	C.	Curtin
Myers	R. G.	Wm. Meeks
Davidson	R. T.	F. Summers
West	R. E.	Williamson
Giesking	R. H. B.	Howard
Simpson	L. H. B.	Rowen
White	F. B.	Trigger
Pepper	Q. B.	Driefus and Remington.

The next game scheduled is with Charlotte Hall on the grounds of that team, on next Saturday. The Alexandria boys will make the trip in automobiles.

ANOTHER JEWISH FEAST

Follows Soon After Close of the Atonement Period.

The Yom Kippur or Day of Atonement closes at sundown today. In the Reformed and Orthodox Congregations of Alexandria it has been marked by impressive services held last night and throughout today.

The Orthodox services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Goldstein, of Philadelphia; in Sarepta Hall, Those of the Reformed faith were held in their Temple, 206 north Washington street.

The Jewish feast of Tabernacle or Succoth will commence on Wednesday, October 11, at sundown. It will last for nine days and will be marked by many special services in the local congregations.

SERVICES TOMORROW

Many Activities in Local Churches of All Denominations—to Continue Through Week.

During the past week there have been over sixty strictly religious meetings in Alexandria, not including those of the Revival during the earlier part of it. In all the churches this activity is in large measure due to the Revival and the fact that all the Protestant churches are receiving large accessions to their membership. The Presbyterian church has added more than one hundred new members to its rolls and a number of the other churches have received cards of converts of the Revival which would appear to indicate that the member they will receive will be as large. The pastors say, however, that it will be impossible to give the definite figures for several weeks yet.

In practically all the churches tomorrow new members will be received.

Emmanuel Chapel, Braddock Heights, Sunday School at 3 p. m. Evening song at 7:30 p. m.

The St. Vincent de Paul Society of St. Mary's Church will meet immediately after Benediction tomorrow morning.

The Quarterly Conference of the Methodist Church, South, will be held at the close of the prayer meeting on Wednesday night.

The Vestry of Grace Episcopal Church will meet in the study of Rev. Edgar C. Carpenter on Monday evening.

A meeting of the Daughters of the King, of Grace Episcopal Church, will be held on Monday night at 311 south Washington street.

The Band of the Holy Name Society, of St. Mary's Church, will participate in the parade in Washington tomorrow afternoon.

Prayer meetings will be held in all three of the Episcopal Churches on next Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

The Seventh Day Adventist Church will hold Sunday evening services, commencing tomorrow night, in Odd Fellows Hall, at 7:30 o'clock. Elder F. E. Gibson will deliver a sermon on "The Great Conflict between Capital and Labor. A song service will proceed the preaching.

The Rev. Dr. John Lee Allison will receive new members into the Presbyterian Church at the morning service and deliver a charge to them concerning their duties. He will also speak to the members concerning their duty in harvesting the fruits of the Revival. The Church session will meet at 10:15 a. m. The evening service will be given over to a Sunday school rally.

WHAT STRAWS INDICATE

The exploit of a wounded Canadian private, who leaped from his trench, killed and wounded many Germans, and compelled 62 others to surrender, is described in a dispatch received from the Canadian headquarters in France. The communication states that the bravery of the unnamed private made it possible for his battalion to capture 250 yards of trench at a critical moment in the general attack. Since their offensive began, the dispatch says, the Canadians have wrested nearly three square miles of territory from the Germans.

The above news item is significant, but it is in no wise a reflection upon the courage of the Germans. ut it is a plain indication that many Teutons are tired of playing a losing game; hence they are ready to surrender. It is not to be supposed that sixty-two men would have allowed one man to take them prisoners had Barkis not been willing.

The Gazette has during the past few days been compelled to curtail much of the war news in order to meet local requirements. We have, however, no intention of cutting out our abridged accounts of war happenings, notwithstanding

An Alexandrian, now in the sere and yellow leaf, who has been a regular reader of the Gazette for over half a century, informed us today that he enjoys the this paper's resume of the war news more than the elongated accounts in other papers. The Gazette was entering this old reader's house when he was in his swaddling clothes. It was a welcome visitor long before he was born, or a century or more ago. We do not hesitate to menton the name of old friend, Rozier Catts, whose father conducted Drovers' Rest in West End, now Duke street extended, long before Alexandria recruits were being received for the Mexican war. Members o fthe family when they reached their majority and established homes for themselves looked upon housekeeping without the Gazette as Hamlet minus Hamlet.

We are especially enthused when we hear from old readers of the Gazette, and we are only too glad to meet their wishes, so far as possible.

ALEXANDRIANS AT CHARLOTTESVILLE.

At the beginning of the Gypsy Smith campaign in Alexandria the vast audience in the gospel tent on upper King street were greatly enthused one night when Judge Louic C. Barley, of the Corporation Court, went upon the rostrum and made the public declaration of his interest in Jesus Christ. The audience cheered heartily, and doubtless the example of such a prominent citizen as Judge Barley added greatly to the success of the revival. The Gazette in referring to this intergsting incident compared him to Dionysius, the Areopagite, who was one of the converts when the Apostle Paul delivered an address on Mars Hill before the high court of Athens. We hear no more of Dionysius. His subsequent career may have been that of silent witness for the truth.

Not so, however, with Judge Barley. Like all genuine converts to Christianity, he wants others to enjoy what he enjoys, and last night he and Hon. James R. Caton, one of the most prominent baristers of Alexandria, delivered addresses at the dedication of the tabernacle in Chalotttesville, where Rev. Gypsy Smith,Jr., will inaugurate a gospel campaign next week.

Mr. Caton has since his boyhood been a member of church. In his early manhood, when the a committee of the Young Men's Christian Association held street corner meetings in Alexandria, he often delivered addresses. While Judge Barley has but recently become a soldier of the cross, he is at work in earnest.

Some people in Alexandria are anxious to visit Charlottesville while the services are being held in that place. Many railroad men became interested in the services while Rev. Mr. Smith,Jr., was here. This class have offered to operate a special train without pay to accommodate Alexandrians, and the railroad company has, it is said, offered to tender the train provided the fuel bill and some minor expenses are met. This matter of expense is trivial and the contract should be closed at once.

"BRINGING IN THE SHEAVES."

The main theme of conversation among the larger number of Alexandrians during the week has been the late gospel campaign and the results which all hope will follow the earnest efforts of Rev. Gypsy Smith and representative men and women of Alexandria churches who were such valuable coadjutors in the work of arousing the thoughtless to a realization of their duty towards God and man. There have already been fruits which have brought joy and gladness into many households and numbers have a announced their purpose to enlist under the gospel cause.

The parable of the sower shows that only a certain percentage ofone fourth of seed falls into good ground. The birds of the air may have devoured some that fell in our city during the past month, but we have much for which to be thankful.

Various plans are being suggested for perpetuating the good work inaugurated among us. All the plans are practical, but that we should go on with a will and vie with each other as we have during the campaign which closed this week is apparent.

The words, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word which proceedeth out of the mouth of God," were written by the great Jewish lawyer and repeated by the Author of Christianity while passing through a trying ordeal. We have no plan to add to the many already announced, but we make this important suggestion to all. It is said that it would take three thousand years to read all the standard books in the world were we to devote ten hours a day to the task. We are not enjoined to read all, fortunately, but it is incumbent upon us to read one and endeavor to obey it in letter and spirit. The family Bible lies upon many of our centre tables unopened for years. It is a witness of our joyful as well as sorrowful times. It is present at marriages, birthday celebrations and funerals. Let not this silent witness rise up in the judgment and condemn any of us.

Jenny Lind made a tour of the United States nearly three-score and ten years ago. She gave a concert in Washington at that time which entranced many Alexandrians, and later passed down the Potomac on her way south on the steamer Baltimore of the Aquia Creek mail line. People who could afford it followed the Swedish nightingale from city to city. The wonderful voice of Jenny Lind was the main subject of conversation.

Unlike some women who become favorites at the footlights, Jenny Lind—and there has been but one Jenny Lind—never allowed fame and fortune to smother her spirituality. She was modest and retiring when a poor girl engaged in sweeping the school room her mother conducted for a meagre existence. While engaged in this humble occupation she sang, as do most young girls. A judge of vocal music passed the school room one morning and stopped and listened to her notes. Jenny Lind, forced to drop the broom, awoke to find herself famous. Fame, however, did not turn her head, and after her stage career she enjoyed domestic life in the retirement of her English home, devoting much of her after life to the relief of the unfortunate of this world.

She had a great heart as well as a magnificent voice. Some little time after she had retired from the stage, she sat in the eventide, as the sun was setting, reading the Bible. What a beautiful picture! The woman who had sung for thousands and thousands enjoying the Word of God. Someone approached her, and asked, "Why did you give up the stage when you were enjoying such wonderful triumphs?" Jenny Lind raised her expressive eyes and looked toward the beautiful sunset where the glory of God was manifested, and replied: "Because it made me think less of that (pointing to the sunset) and nothing of this (pointing to the Word of God)"

PROGRESS OF THE WAR

France Defiant When Peace Overtures Are Suggested

A dispatch from The Hague, says the Dutch government only two months ago sounded the European belligerents on the prospects of peace

Every belligerent, except France, expressed a willingness to enter an informal discussion. France's reply was such a fiery refusal that one person who learned its contents described it as "almost an ultimatum."

Dutch officials not only have not resumed their attempt at peace negotiations, but they are now convinced that the end of the war is a long way off.

The one positive indication that peace is impossible at present is the wide difference of opinion between each of the opposing sides regarding the situation in the ranks of the other. During the past few days I have been in Copenhagen. Berlin, The Hague, and Rotterdam. The first impression obtained by a traveler is the wide chasm between the contending parties.

Copenhagen, which is tremendously anti-German believes that Germany is about to fall to pieces. There are reports of unrest, starvation, depression, and lack of soldiers in Germany. The people of Copenhagen and also residents of The Hague, believe the allied offensive on the Somme, in Russia and Galicia and Hungary is having great success.

Italian troops have taken the offensive in the Balkans in conjunction with the British, French and Serbs and are attacking in the region of Butkovo, east of the Vardar. On the allied left wing, the Serbs have pushed their advance guards forward into Belavoda valley. French troops have occupied German positions. The Bulgars directed strong counter-attacks against the British force that occupied Nevolen but were repulsed.

Chronic Dysentery.

"An old gentleman of this town who was almost at the point of death with chronic dysentery some time ago and had given up all hope of recovery was induced to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. One dose stopped the discharge, and after taking a few more doses he was completely cured," writes J. L. Baer, West Manchester, Pa. "Many residents of Baer's Station can testify to the truth of the above and were aware of the old gentleman's condition." Obtainable everywhere.

After working two years on an automobile of his own invention which would burn kerosine oil instead of gasoline Wilbur Willetts, of Broad Creek, near Whitesville, Del., saw his pet go up in smoke, hardly five minutes after he had demonstrated to himself that the invention was a success. Willetts, with only his own workshop, managed to turn out a very creditable looking automobile, the principal part of which was its ability to run 100 miles on about 10 cents worth of kerosine oil. Willetts got the machine out and had run about five miles from home when a sudden blaze jumped up and in a moment his machine was on fire. He declares that he has discovered the right thing and that he will build another machine at once.

Modernized Chiropractic has put more so-called Incurable Diseases on the list of curables than any other drugless method known.

When applied to the study of the nature, cause and elimination of disease, it becomes a science and philosophy which is able to locate and analyze, unerringly, the cause of disease, and provides the best method known at the present time for removing the cause.

The method is original, unique, adequate, and is the most prompt in bringing about a cure. It is absolutely safe.

The basic principles of Chiropratic are in no way at variance with the established facts of Anatomy and Physiology, the two branches of medical science which are the foundation of all others.

Dense Fog Necessitates Halt and Makes Norfolk Steamer Ten Hours Late

Fog on the Potomac and Chesapeake Bay Thursday night and yesterday could have been cut with a knife. The steamer Southland, of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, due at this port at six o'clock, yesterday morning, did not reach her wharf until four o'clock. The boat left Norfolk at six o'clock, Thursday evening, according to schedule, and had reached Colonial Beach, about sixty miles south of Alexandria, when the fog became so dense that it would have been hazardous to proceed. The steamer was stopped and the anchor dropped. The Southland was unable to resume her voyage up the river until about noon when the fog lifted somewhat. The Southland generally reaches Alexandria on her return trip at 7:45 p. m. but she did not arrive here last night until about 8 o'clock.

All passengers were in their staterooms and there was no excitement. Fog horns were blown and searchlights played about the surrounding waters to prevent accident.

In the morning the passengers found the Southland anchored at Cow Point, off Colonial Beach, and were assured by Capt. Nowell, and his officers that the voyage would be resumed when the mist raised.

There was some anxiety on the part of relatives and friends of passengers who had expected their arrival in Alexandria at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. A number of Alexandria Elks, who had been attending the annual meeting of the Virginia State Association in Norfolk, were among the passengers. It was not until late in the day that the officials received word of the safety of the steamer.

THE RAMBLER

A lady who reads a great deal said, last night, that slang dates far back—that the apostles used it. To prove her contention she quoted a passage beginning "Believe me—" But of course she didn't prove her point at all. The words in themselves are not slang. It depends entirely upon how they are used and what emphasis is laid upon them.

As a matter of fact we all use slang, even those of us who pride ourselves upon the purity of our English. And this for the reason that the newer dictionaries are now using words which were not acceptable to the purists of a generation ago. Slang is incisive—that is why it is successful. Years ago people used to use French to express things which could not be done in English without a great deal of vocal rambling, but you rarely hear people using French for that purpose today, just as you do not find many Latin or French or Greek quotations in the writings of today.

You remember how the old boys used to seem to delight to show their knowledge in their writings? They don't do it any more—people no longer read what they do not readily understand.

The military training of the High School fellows seems to be working wonders in their deportment, and even the wearing of the uniform makes them brace their shoulders. A local man took his nephew in to a tailor's shop to be fitted for one. As soon as the tailor got to work with his tape line the boy began to grow more erect and throw his shoulders back. Another youngster, who was present was watching the proceedings with bright eyes. He laughed; he understood.

"Huh!" he said, "you think you're a man now don't you?"

But it is true that going on record whether with words in a promise, or with a uniform as an indication of a purpose, helps to keep people up to the mark—to toe the mark, as it were.

Frenzied Finance.

(Given to the Rambler by Another Rambling friend.)

A young man requested an increase in salary, where-upon the "boss" proceeded to show him that he was really not entitled to what he was already getting.

"There are," said he, "365 days in the year ....365 days.

You sleep 8 hours each day (1-3 of the time) ..... 122 "

243

Eight hours you spend in rest and recreation ..... 122 "

121

There are 52 Sundays ..... 52 "

69

One-half day Saturdays .... 26 "

43

One and one-half hours for lunch 5 days a week .... 16 "

27

Three weeks vacation .... 21 "

6 days

"The six days remaining are the holidays—New Year's, Washington's Birthday, Fourth of July, Columbus Day, Thanksgiving, and Christmas."

The next time anyone asks for a raise in salary try this on him, or maybe you can do better still and convince him that he owes office rent.

James Bryce Cables of Terrible Pyight of Armenians In Arabian Desert.

Washington, Oct. 6 —The following cablegram from Viscount James Bryce, chairman of the English committee for Armenian and Syrian relief, was received today by Henry B. F. MacFarland, chairman of the Washington committee.

"All civilized nations able to assist Armenians today should know that the need is extremely urgent. Several hundred thousands of exiles who survived the horrors of deportation are now perishing of exposure and starvation in the Arabian desert.

"Latest reports from neutral eye-witnesses describe terrible conditions. These people throw themselves in the grave and beg gravediggers to bury them; women going mad, eating grass; parents putting children out of misery, digging their own graves, and awaiting death.

"The future of the Armenian nations depends upon saving the refugees in Russia, but this requires world-wide assistance for feeding, clothing, housing and repatriation.

"We feel sure that American generosity will again respond to the call of humanity."

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING.

But Not So Bad If You Know How to Reach the Cause.

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys. Alexandria people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case:

William L. Nalls, 534 S. Patrick street, Alexandria, says: "My back ached all the time and the pains through my loins were so severe that I thought they would kill me. My kidneys were congested and the kidney secretions caused me much annoyance. Nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Summer's Drug Store, I was relieved of that misery in my back after I had taken a few doses. Since using three boxes, my kidneys have been in good condition and my back has never caused me any trouble."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that William Nalls had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

LOCAL ELKS IN PERIL?

Returning From State Convention Friends Are Alarmed by Late Arrival of Steamer.

Among the passengers on the steamer Southland which left Norfolk Thursday evening at six o'clock for Alexandria were Alderman Jacob Brill, Past Exalted Ruler of Alexandria Lodge of Elks, and Councilman James Bales, retiring President of the Virginia State Association of Elks, which held its annual reunion in Norfolk this week. Mr. Bales accompanied her husband.

The trio upon awakening at an early hour yesterday morning supposed they were about in the neighborhood of Jones's Point, within a stone's throw of their homes, but they were much disappointed when they were told the steamer was anchored off Colonial Beach, the northern entrance to the Kettle Bottoms, at least sixty miles from home and friends. It was impossible to see twenty yards ahead, and the hoarse blasts of the fog whistle of the steamer indicated that there was more or less anxiety lest some passing steamer might collide with the big Norfolk liner.

Hour followed hour, but like London fogs, there were no indications of break, and the passengers realized that they must kill time as best they could. Fortunately there were piano-players aboard and some of the steamer's complement wrer vocalists. Musice was rendered and other pastimes conceived to pass away the time. The officers of the Southland did everything possible to render the experience of the passengers as pleasant as possible.

During the day the steward of the steamer prepared a royal feast for the benefit of the passengers, and told them they were guests of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, and to partake of the tempting menu without cost. The invitation was accepted, and all enjoyed the spread. About noon the fog lifted and the steamer blew for her Alexandria landing about four o'clock in the afternoon.

Relatives and friends of the Alexandrians, while the latter were feasting and having a good time, were anxious. What had become of the steamer? Was the earnest query made to Mr. Wattles, the company's agent at this port. He was as much in the dark as any one. The only answer he could give was the correct one—the steamer was fog-bound somewhere. In the meantime the steamer Three Rivers arrived here from Baltimore. The officers were asked if they had seen anything of the Southland. They had not, and this laconic answer caused more depression and much relief was experienced when the friendly blasts of the Southland were heard.

BRITAIN EXTENDS EMBARGO

Importation of all Knit Cotton Goods Now Prohibited.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Consul-General Skinner, at London, notified the Department of Commerce yesterday that Great Britain has extended her embargo against importations into the United Kingdom to include cotton knit goods, Mr. Skinner's cablegram said, in part:

"Proclamation of October 3, provides that from and after that date the importation into the United Kingdom of the following goods is prohibited: Aluminum powder, birds (live, other than poultry and game), bone, horn, ivory and celluloid and manufactures of cotton hosiery."

Officials of the department said the term cotton hosiery used in the English sense includes not only hosiery, as known in this country, but other knit cotton goods. Mr. Skinner said the prohibition was ordered because of "an active campaign of a protective nature." He added that the embargo against oranges had been lifted

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for seven years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is pure, vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

President Wilson discussed the European war, peace and American business in three speeches in Omaha yesterday. He declared America is as ready to fight as any nation in the world, but that its cause must be just. After the war, he said, this nation must join a league of nations to preserve the peace of the world.

KAISER WANTS PEACE

New York, Oct., 6—The president of one of the largest institutions in the financial district said yesterday that Germany had asked Ambassador Gerard to present a letter to President Wilson asking his good offices in bringing about peace.

He further stated that the Ambassador is now the bearer of this letter and would present it to the President immediately upon his arrival here. Mr. Gerard is a passenger on the Frederick VIII, which is due Tuesday.

Questioned as to the source of his information, the financier said:

"I would not make this statement if I were not absolutely sure of my facts. The news has come to me from the most authoritative sources imaginable. I know that Germany has requested the President to act. I know that the Ambassador is bearing Germany's overtures. That is all I can say for the present."

The standing of the financier is so unimpeachable and his sources of news so authoritative that Wall Street credited the statement without question. Immediately there was a sharp break in the so-called war stocks.

The statement caused a tremendous stir. It engaged the attention, not alone of the financial district, but of big business men in all parts of the city.

Within an hour after the statement was issued official Washington took heed of it. Denials were to be expected in the absence of any official communication that could be made public. These denials were instantly forthcoming.

But in spite of Washington's attitude the statement became more generally credited.

BROKER HELD FOR MURDER

Mountain View, N. H., Oct. 7—Frederick L. Small, formerly a Boston stock broker, was held for the grand jury on a charge of murder in connection with the death of his wife. Mrs. Florence A. Small, after a hearing in the District Court yesterday.

William S. Matthews, Small's counsel, argued at length that the prisoner should be held for a grand jury inquiry, as the fact that Small would receive $20,000 insurance money through his wife's death was "only reasonable protection."

Attorney-General Tuttle, asserting that there was a motive for the crime in the $20,000 life insurance policy and a $3,000 policy on the house, said every one was satisfied that whoever committed the murder started the fire to destroy its traces.

DEATH NOTICE

Pepburn, On Friday, October 6, 1916, at 8 p. m., George E. Hepburn, beloved husband of Nellie Hepburn. Funeral from his late residence 403 south Fairfax street, Monday, Oct. 9, 1916, at 4 p. m. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Lodging in the throat of Mrs. Theresa Walther, of Willow Grove, near Philadelphia, several days ago, a small piece of tin caused her death Thursday. Mrs. Walther was eating salmon in her home on September 26 when she felt something in her throat. She tried to dislodge the tin with home remedies for the first two days. It annoyed, but did not hurt her, Her throat began to swell later, however, and she was taken to the St. Luke's Hospital, where physicians located the tin by means of an XV-ray, but were unable to get it out.

The agitation in Germany for a renewal of drastic submarine warfare is daily growing stronger. The papers are demanding that Germany ignore the United States, calling that country "an enemy of Germany."

The body of Rev. Stephen MacGill, curate of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, of North Easton, Mass., was found yesterday in what is known as Hoe Shop Pond, which is used as a swimming pool by men and boys. His clothing was found on the bank. There were no marks of violence on the body. It is believed that Father MacGill went in for a swim and was seized with cramps when in the water.

Passengers and the crew of a Woodward avenue car in Atlanta, Ga, had a miraculous escape early yesterday when the car was wrecked by dynamite, believed to have been placed on the tracks by sympathizers of striking carmen. The windows of the cars were shattered and the heavy rails broken in several places, but no one was injured.

The Dominican army has revolted. Only the presence of the American marines and bluejackets has prevented another revolution. The situation now is in the hands of the American officers of the United State marine corps and peace is reestablished. One-time partisans of Gen. Desiderio Arias ,who rose against President Juan Osidoro Jiminez and overthrew the Jiminez government, turned against him at Santiago, and for a few hours the situation there was critical.

Ispahan, one of the important cities of central Persia, has been liberated from Russian rule through an uprising of tribesmen in a holy war, says an official statement, issued in Constantinople, October 4, dealing with the situation in Persia. A Russion army, which attacked the Turks at Kinshar, northwest of Hamadan, it is added, was routed by the Turks.

Kidnapped Wednesday night by a band of Greeks and held for $15,000 ransom, Robert Perry, 35 years old, manager of the Moffet coal mines at Oak Creek, Col., early yesterday, shot one of his captors, wounding him seriously, and escaped.

The Braddock Pa. police yesterday arrested James Floto who had thrown a skillet full of red-hot pennies to a crowd of children and then laugh uproariously as the youngsters tried to pick up the coppers. The children had gathered around the home of a newly-married couple when Floto who lives nearby appeared bearing a skillet filled with several hundred red hot pennies. Floto tossed the coppers in the air and the children began a wild scramble for them. Soon the voices of the little ones turned to screams of agony. Floto was roughly handled by spectators.

A Federal jury yesterday in Trenton, N. J., awarded $20,000 damages to Mrs. Daisy James, of Newark, a former dancer at the Winter Garden, New York, against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, for the loss of both her feet. She was run down by a train of the company in June, 1915, She sued for $100,000.

Wireless communication between the United States and Japan was established at San Francisco. The Marconi operator picked up a strange call, followed by the salutation, "Hello, U. S. A.," from the Japanese station near Tokyo. He answered with a 600-meter "wave-length" apparatus. It is understood that a regular commercial service will be established within a fortnight. This feat of wireless breaks the long-distance record, 5,800 miles intervening between the two points.

Spurred on by the exhortations of "Mother" Jones, labor agitator, 300 wives and women relatives of striking street car men battled with the police in New York late yesterday afternoon in the most serious riot since the walk-out on the traction lines began a month ago. Night sticks were swung right and left by the poylice, and many of the women were bruised. Scores of the rioters carried babies in their arms.

Property left by James J. Hill, railroad builder, subject to probate in Minnesota courts, is valued at more than $52,000,000 by his son, Louis W. Hill, in an inventory furnished appraisers of the estate. The inventory does not include several parcels of real estate in the Northwest or Mr. Hill's properties in other States.

Cured Her Children of Colds.

"During the past winter I had occasion to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my two children, who were at the time suffering from severe colds. It proved to be the very medicine they needed," writes Mrs. Myron J. Pickard, Memphis, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.
